TAX EDUCATION LONGING IN PAKISTAN

The importance of Tax Profession in our society is bound to grow in the wake of globalization. It is deeply felt that Pakistan is lacking in development of tax professionals that is undertaken proactively internationally, especially in the progressive countries. Tax professionals are supposed to be at the forefront in dealing with the fiscal challenges that is becoming a stressful dare in our country. Pakistan is a country of plenty resources where outdated practices and procedures are adopted to address challenging fiscal issues, which is why a group of professionals have initiated to establish a Institute of Taxation.

About the Institute

Institute of Taxation is established as the first and foremost educational body in Pakistan, which will be playing an active role in supporting the government's initiatives for developing tax administration and tax policy in the country.

Institute of Taxation is also committed to develop tax profession, regulate its members and play its role in serving the best interest of national taxpayers in a changing world scenario.

The establishment of Institute of Taxation intends to provide the perfect opportunity to carefully consider and focus these evolving needs of the profession. For this a germane curriculum has been developed that is well-aligned with the local needs as well as that of the international institutes.
